About The Festival:

The Coral Springs Festival of the Arts redefines Coral Springs as a cultural destination by celebrating the arts in all its forms while bringing focus to the beautiful city's downtown area.

The festival attracts 30,000—40,000 people from all over South Florida. Held at The Walk on University Drive in March, the Coral Springs Festival of the Arts features a professional juried fine arts exhibition as well as over 175 crafters and artisans. Nationally renowned art festival promoter Howard Alan Events, Ltd., America's leading independent promoter of fine art festivals, producing more than 45 events each year nation wide produces the event.

With its tree canopy, gifts shops, Barnes and Nobel and dining options ranging from fine restaurants to simple sandwich shops, The Walk of Coral Springs provides a perfect venue for the festival. The event features more than just art, the entertainment on two stages ranges from live music, dance, theatre, and literary performances. The festival also offers two days of literary workshops with best selling authors, a garden expo, street art, a children's games and entertainment section.

The Coral Springs Festival of the Arts is the signature event for Broward County.
